

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW COVID-19 and Voting

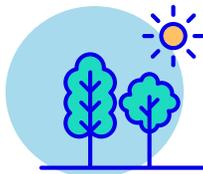

No voter should have to choose between their safety and their fundamental right to vote in November. If voting in-person is preferable or necessary, there are things that everyone can do to minimize their COVID-19 risk.

Check the polling location where you are voting as it may have changed since the last time you did so.

Wear a face covering when visiting a polling location.

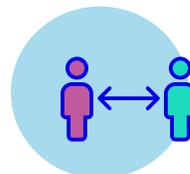

Try to stay outdoors as long as possible when at a polling location.

Check for separate points of entry and exit to limit exposure.

Look for designated areas at the polling table where voters will be required to show identification and have yours ready.

Maintain a distance of at least six feet from other voters and poll workers if possible.

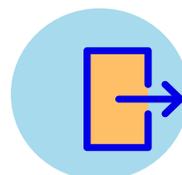

Look for tape or other semi-permanent markers that show six-foot distances in lines and at polling location tables.

Avoid bringing any unnecessary persons to the polling location such as children.

Ask poll workers any questions you have about safety measures that are in place.

When leaving a polling location exit safely and efficiently to limit exposure.
